Kez's Hideaway is a stunning purpose built family retreat, set on rural farmland close to the small township of Redesdale in Central Victoria.

This special retreat has been built in memory of Kerri Gray (who was known as Kez) in partnership with Kerri's husband and local builder, Paul Gray.

The beautiful, open-plan home features huge windows perfectly framing the views of the picturesque countryside. The spacious rooms are designed for comfort and luxury; with a parents' wing conveniently located at one end of the house, rooms for relaxation in between and a further wing featuring bedrooms and a play area for the kids or other guests.

Located 20 minutes north of Kyneton and a similar distance south-east of Heathcote, Kez's Hideaway, offers ample opportunities for browsing antique shops and sampling local produce. A 40 minute drive will find you in the historic town of Bendigo, regional Victoria's cultural hub with access to all services you could require.
